

Petition to King Charles III and his representative the Governor General of Australia.

To: His Royal Majesty King Charles III,
His excellency the Honourable David Hurley as his majesty's representative.

We the undersigned sovereign people of this land, born into our tribal nations, tribes and clans, do hereby request your express powers to deny the issuing of the writs for the proposed referendum to alter the Commonwealth Constitution to recognise first peoples of Australia, and create a voice to parliament body.

No consultation has taken place with the individual sovereign nations, tribes and or clans regarding this voice to parliament referendum.

It is well established under tribal lore that no tribe can speak for or on behalf of any other tribe. No man or woman from any position, be they politician, bureaucrat or civilian, has a right to determine what may happen in regards to nations or tribal people.

There can be no determination without representation and that includes consultation with the elders of all individual tribes. It will be regarded as a breach of our tribal lore and an insult to our people for another nation to decide what happens to our people without requesting our consent.

We hereby notify you, his royal highness King Charles III and Governor General David Hurley, that consent was never given nor requested to engage on the matters regarding this referendum. One nation cannot decide for other nations.

The crown has no authority to make laws for the undersigned nations, tribes or clans without a lawful treaty being in place first. The crown/commonwealth can only make laws for subjects of the crown/commonwealth, of which we are neither. The constitution only applies to subjects of the crown/commonwealth.

This is a usurpation of authority that the crown/commonwealth does not possess given that no treaty exists with the listed nations on this petition or indeed with any tribal nation on this continent. This referendum does not and cannot apply to the original tribal people of this land to bring them under the crown or commonwealth. The issue of a treaty with the tribes has never been resolved by the crown and until then this referendum cannot go forward.
